A smart way to organize your toiletries

Q: My handbags and desk drawers are cluttered with grooming products, headache cures and other personal products accumulated over many years. I need to gather them in one place but never seem to have the time or inclination. Can you suggest an easy way to organize all this stuff, ideally in something small and portable?

A: If all those goodies have been languishing in your handbags and drawers for years, they're probably past their use-by dates. I suggest tossing the lot and starting over with a Refresher Kit designed by Central Florida consultant Jamie Yasko-Mangum of Successful Style & Image. Each contains grooming aids packaged in a small black bag with a Velcro closure.

The women's kit ($16) includes hand lotion, lip balm, hairbrush, mirror, nail file, clear nail polish, breath mints, Band-Aids, aspirin and sewing kit. The men's kit ($13) has similar items, as well as a comb, toothpicks, hand sanitizer and lint brush.

Keep one in your purse or attache, another in your desk. You could even stash a third in your car -- but only during the cooler months. Florida heat will melt the cosmetics in the kit. To order, call 407-478-6800 or visit successfulstyle-image.com.
